

Roland Evans & Hannah Joyce

Roland is Gwynedd Council's Deputy Head of Service for Economy and Community, and has led on the bid for World Heritage Site Status from the beginning. He has an overview of the following services in Gwynedd Council: Archives, Museums and the Arts, Libraries and Tourism. He is fluent in Italian and French and previously worked as European Manager in Gwynedd working on European Funded projects and relationships between Gwynedd and Europe.

Hannah has worked as a Senior Strategic Regeneration Officer in the Economy and Community Department of Gwynedd Council since 2014. In her role, she has managed a number of Gwynedd Council strategic priority projects, Welsh Government and European Funded projects. Hannah has been Project Manager for the World Heritage Site nomination since 2016 and in 2019 received the Gwynedd Council Partnership Working award for the work involved in developing relationships with World Heritage Site nomination partners and communities