Developing New Audiences for World Heritage Sites

Are you interested in attracting new and more diverse audiences to your archaeology or heritage project/organisation? Have you ever had an idea for an inclusive engagement project but not had the time, ability or confidence to plan it properly? Then this new programme might be for you...

Wessex Archaeology, York Archaeology and MOLA (Museum of London Archaeology) have joined forces to offer an 8-part online mentoring scheme starting in October 2022. Their three-month digital programme is for anyone involved in archaeology or heritage who wants to work with new audiences but isn't sure where to start.

Their mentors will take you, step-by-step, through the project-development process, helping you to transform your engagement project from an initial idea to a fully-fledged, grant-ready proposal.

The deadline for applications is midnight on Sunday the 2nd of October.

This scheme is part of the Archaeological Audience Network (AAN), a strategic collaboration between some of the largest and most innovative archaeological organisations in the UK. Funded by the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) and the National Lottery Heritage Fund's Digital Skills for Heritage Initiative, the AAN is building a community of practice to aggregate, learn from and improve how audience data can be used to achieve more meaningful impacts. To learn more about the AAN and hear about forthcoming events and other pilot projects, sign up for their mailing list at: www.mola.org.uk/aan or join the conversation via #ArchaeoAN on Twitter and Facebook.

OurWorldHeritage - call for videos

OurWorldHeritage (OWH) is constituted as a new global platform (network) that brings together heritage voices to generate new perspectives, new points of view and new sensibilities about the world's heritage.

OurWorldHeritage's goal is to establish local-global collaborations to strengthen the local heritage voices, through creating spaces of co-learning, co-creation, support and advocacy, where expert and specifically local knowledge is respected.

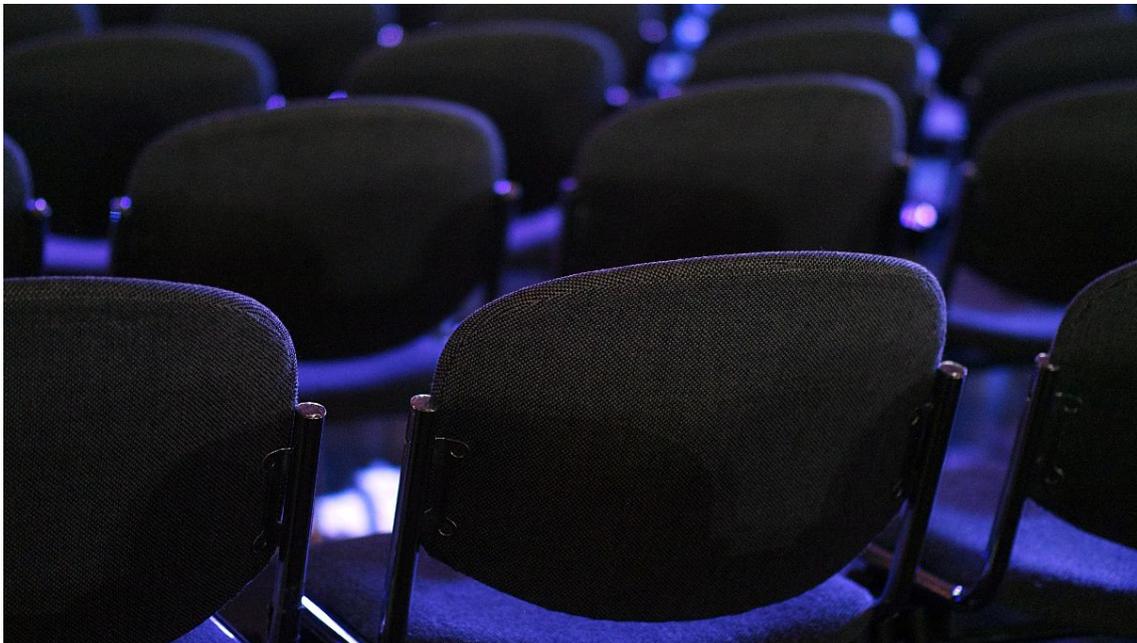

OurWorldHeritage is seeking videos, in celebration of and reflection about the 50th Anniversary of the UNESCO World Heritage Convention. This project

Deadline for video submissions is October 14th. Please find more practical info here.

The video's will be screened and discussed with the makers during OWHvoices Globinar (November 14th 2022). The next day OWHvoices Symposium (November 15th 2022) will make a case for a better representation and participation of people and communities within the UNESCO World Heritage framework.

Both OWHvoices events are free to attend. Book your place on the links above.
