

COASTAL CONNECTIONS

Online Workshops

1. UNDERSTANDING THE SIGNIFICANCE OF COASTAL HERITAGE

When:

Tuesday
23rd January 2024

Time:

4pm to 5.30pm (GMT)

Chair:

Alex Kent

Panellists include:

Tom Colwill
Peter Cox
John Darlington
Caitlin DeSilvey
Stephanie Ortiz
Roy Porter

Overview

Join us for this workshop to explore how significance is defined in the context of different cultural heritage sites around the world, including Rapa Nui (Easter Island) and Hurst Castle in England. Speakers include Roy Porter (English Heritage), Stephanie Ortiz (World Monuments Fund), Caitlin DeSilvey (University of Exeter), Peter Cox (ICOMOS) and Tom Colwill (Historic England). Questions and discussion will be led by Alex Kent (International Connections Lead) and John Darlington (Director of Projects).

Coastal Connections is a joint initiative between World Monuments Fund and English Heritage to facilitate knowledge exchange and best practice amongst site managers, communities and those who care for coastal heritage sites worldwide. Our series of workshops draws on case studies and real-world experience to offer new perspectives, broaden understanding and explore practical solutions for improving the sustainable management of coastal heritage sites.

This event is free, but booking is essential via Eventbrite.

Book tickets via

eventbrite

bit.ly/coastalconnectionssignificance