

COASTAL CONNECTIONS

Online Workshops

Coastal zones are among the most dynamic and volatile environments on the planet. Especially vulnerable to the effects of climate change, they also include some of our most treasured heritage sites.

Coastal Connections is a joint initiative between World Monuments Fund (WMF) and English Heritage to form a global network of coastal heritage sites by bringing together communities and organizations to share their knowledge and expertise.

Join us for our series of workshops to discuss practical solutions and explore new perspectives for managing coastal heritage sites. Open to all those involved and interested in safeguarding these treasured places, each workshop focuses on a particular theme and includes speakers drawn from around the world who manage or care for coastal heritage sites.

We are also developing a virtual global classroom that will contain online resources to promote best practice in conserving our treasured coastal heritage.
